Federals at Guaymas Retreat
After Night Fight.

Cabral Now in Full Accord with Carranza Policy.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CRUZ DE PIEDRAS (Mex.) 11
a.m. Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]
With a suddenness that surprised even those awaiting the attack, three divisions of the Constitutional army under the command of Gen.
Juan Cabral made a simultaneous attack on the Federal forces commanding the entrances to the port of Guaymas and after fighting all night
the defenders of the city were forced to retreat to the inner line of fortifications to escape complete annihilation.

A strict censorship was ordered on all dispatches leaving the Constitutionalist lines in order to prevent the Federalists from receiving an inkling of the proposed attack and at the hour when the first shots were fired
the Federal sentries were asleep and utterly in ignorance of the presence of the army that slowly was surrounding them.

The central column under the command of Cabral and the right wing under Mendez were the first to assault the shock of resistance on the part of the Federalists, and for nearly three hours the honors were evenly divided.

Gen. Oregon with 500 veterans suddenly appeared from the south and the Federalists were slowly forced back toward the city, leaving several score of dead and wounded behind them.

Word was sent to Gen. Carranza at Chihuahua that the battle for mastery of the port already had begun and he wired back his approval of the action taken.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Constitutionalists had entered the lateral lane, where the Federalists had constructed deep entrenchments, but owing to the allied cooperation of the Federal army the invaders hope to force this position before midnight.

THE GAMBOA INCIDENT.
The determination to make themselves masters of the situation in Northern Mexico, and especially on the West Coast, was decided upon by the Constitutional leaders after reading the correspondence of Dr.
Suarez Gamboa, the surgeon-general of the army, who was arrested on suspicion of treason to the revolutionary cause and who was executed at Guaymas this morning, according to a report received at the battlefield from the jefe politico at the capital.

An investigation of the physician's effects are said to have proven that he was in contact with the revolutionary interests—some say Gen.
Villa—to administer poison to the principal chiefs of the Constitutionalist army. Previous to the action it is alleged that the doctor's memo confessed that he had stolen correspondence addressed to the surgeon-general and that he had been arrested at Nogales, Ariz., on complaint of the doctor, who alleged that he had lost a purse containing a large amount of money.

When brought before the court-martial at Hermosillo more than 40,000 in American bank notes were found on his person and he is said to have admitted that he lost letters and not money on his recent trip to the border cities.

RAMIFICATIONS OF PLOT.
The ramifications of the plot to poison Gen. Carranza and the principal Cabinet and army chiefs are said to have extended through a wide circle of society and that more than fifty persons were engaged in the treachery. Several arrests were reported tonight and it is rumored that the court-martial now in session will remain on duty until every person mentioned in the letters found in Dr. Gamboa's possession has been tried.

The discovery of the alleged plot is said to have consolidated the interests of Carranza and Cabral and the revolutionary chiefs have now announced themselves in full accord with the policies adopted by the commander-in-chief.

At the same time official dispatches
to the War Department at Washington dated at Aguila Prieta this morning announce the return of a column of Constitutional troops recently sent southward to open the line to Chihuahua, owing to alleged straining relations existing between Villa and Carranza.

VERIFIABLE FIGURES.

For ten consecutive years the Los Angeles Times has not only excelled every other newspaper on the planet, and completely submerged its local contemporaries in the total volume of both display and classified advertising printed from day to day, but it has also led them all in each and every kind and class of advertising—real estate, promotion, mercantile, automobile, etc.

Struggling local contemporaries, in a vain effort to throw sand in the eyes of their advertising patrons, from time to time juggle their advertising figures in such a way as to make it appear that they print more of a certain kind of advertising than The Times. Advertisers, however, who are alive to the situation, readily recognize the absurdity of these claims.

In 1913 The Times led its nearest local contemporary approximately 1,000,000 lines in the total volume of display advertising printed and practically 3,000,000 lines in the total volume of classified advertising printed. In automobile advertising alone, in 1913, this paper had a lead of practically 300,000 lines over its nearest local contemporary, and its supremacy was equally as great as regards every other class of advertising. The Times will gladly demonstrate the accuracy of these figures to advertisers or other interested persons.

The superior quality, quantity and purchasing power of The Times' circulation, and the consequent profitability of The Times' columns to its advertising patrons, are alone responsible for the regularity with which the advertising business of this newspaper over-tops that of any other publicity medium.

tion, this action is taken to mean that something unusual has occurred to break the alleged friendly relations that were supposed to exist between the two commanding generals.

Three American mining men are reported in distress in the neighborhood of Trigo, Sinaloa, and steps are being taken to send a consular messenger to the mountains to ascertain the fate of the foreigners.

Another attempt will be made to take Guaymas some time tonight, according to advices sent to Gen. Carranza this afternoon.

REBEL FORCE RETURNS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Jan. 29.—[Exclusive.] Calves with 300 followers, who left Agua Prieta a month ago with the announced intention of proceeding to Colonia Morelos, where Sonora and Sinaloa troops would be mobilized to reinforce Villa's Chihuahua army, have returned and are in camp across the international line opposite here today.

It had previously been stated that these troops had reached Chihuahua, but the commanding officers of the returned column said they had been recalled by telegraphic orders from Hermosillo. Constitutionalists here said the order indicated that Carranza had determined not to send any Sonora or Sinaloa troops into Chihuahua.

Official advices received here today
of the repulse of a Federal column
near Cruz de Piedra, twenty-five miles northwest of Guaymas, on January 27,
give the Federal loss as 100 dead, 25 prisoners captured, number of wounded not stated. The rebel loss is said to be five dead and eight wounded. Among the Federal killed was Col. Regue, commander of the force, in whose pockets were found a set of plans by Gen. Ojeda, Federal commander at Guaymas, for the capture of Cruz de Piedra.

FIGHT IN INDIAN COUNTRY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHILICAN (Sinaloa, Mex.) Jan.
29.—After a full day of fighting yesterday against Federalists who had made a sortie out of Guaymas into the country held by the Yaqui and Mayo Constitutionalist troops, the Indians found themselves in full possession of the field, according to reports received during the night at Constitutional headquarters here.

It was stated today that the attack
was part of a plan to surround Gen.
Carranza here. Nearly 100 bodies of Federal soldiers were found on the field after the battle.

HALT TRAIN
AT AGUA PRIETA.

AMERICAN PASSENGERS ARE EXPOSED TO SCOURGE.

Mexicans Opposed to Quarantine Compel Passengers to Leave Cars and Mingle with Crowd Which Prevents Them from Crossing Boundary Into the United States.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Jan. 29.—Following the quarantine declared by Douglas health authorities on Monday against the town of Agua Prieta,
just across the border, Mexican officials today stopped the train from Nacozari to Douglas in Agua Prieta.

Then they compelled all passengers, American and Mexican, to alight and mingle with the crowd, which prohibited them from crossing the international boundary. Ordinarily the train is merely halted in Agua Prieta for a few minutes while baggage is inspected, and then allowed to proceed. Today, however, the Mexicans declared that the one case of smallpox discovered did not warrant the quarantine.

American passengers who came north on the train could be seen behind here today, moving about the streets of the Mexican town, evidently trying in every possible manner to get on the side of the line.

When the railroad men learned what the Mexican officials intended to do, it is said, they went word to do it, and they succeeded in remaining in the coaches at all hazards, as the only chance of getting over the border.
Shortly afterward, however, soldiers alighted under the orders of Col. P. E. Calles, commander of the garrison, compelled them to leave the train.

One American summoned from Nacozari by telegram to come to the border of his dying child, it is said, started to walk west, with the announcement that he was going to Nacozari, twenty-five miles away, and crossing into the United States there. Three Mexican cavalrymen sent after him brought him back to town, according to reports here.

It is stated that the Mexicans declare they can raise a quarantine
by holding back Americans who try to cross the border.

"Starvation Gown" as a Substitute for Dieting.

Before and after alteration.

The "starvation gown," according to Chicago advices, has become popular in the East with women who prefer to appear slender rather than stout. The above illustrations show what the stout woman may accomplish by merely altering the direction of the stripes in the cloth of the "starvation gown."

of nations and that special legislation would have to be enacted by each country to prohibit commercial transactions similar to the joint resolution of March 14, 1912, in the American Congress.

The President believes the foreign governments are doing all they can to show a friendly spirit toward the United States in the Mexican situation. The American government has realized the Huerta administration has a plentiful supply of ammunition and arms, although most of the rifles
are not in use, because the government has no money to pay its troops,
and desertions are many.

President Wilson informed that
Gen. Huerta is obtaining no funds abroad but is "living on the country" by forced contributions and increased taxes—a situation that is producing much dissatisfaction in Mexico, according to official reports here.
The President's disposition of inquiries in connection with the visit of officers of the Japanese cruiser Idzumi
to Mexico City by letting it be known that the American government had not regarded it as differing in any manner from the recent trips of British and German naval officers to the Mexican capital.

As to the relations of the United States with Japan, it became known that the two governments were discussing proposals to cement friendly relations, but that the negotiations have been closed. The United States government, it was learned, views that phase of the question as concluded
because the American government does not under the Constitution dictate to a State what its laws should contain, and because no court decision has defined whether a treaty can override a State law or vice versa. It is understood that this contention, as well as the doubt of the United States on whether or not any treaty with Japan actually was violated, were the underlying reasons for the determination of the American government to bring out a new treaty or some other proposal that would make perfectly evident the sincere friendship of the American people to Japan. Nothing along this line, however, has been formulated.

Vicente Chinda, the Japanese Ambassador, had a long conference today with Secretary Bryan, but its nature was not disclosed.

Secretary Bryan, it became known,
has expressed his approval of the letter sent by Councilor John Bassett Moore to House Immigration Committee recently, pointing out the relations of the immigration bills to existing treaties. In this connection the President told callers that his mind was "still to let" on the literary test feature of proposed immigration legislation, as he expected to give a hearing on immigration questions soon.

The earnest desire of the President
that the sixteen arbitration treaties should be renewed, was reiterated by him today.

In regard to the situation in Haiti
the President is waiting for more definite developments, following the ab-dication of President Cressat, before announcing the position of the American government.

what may be done by rearranging
the corsage, draping the skirt and running the stripes up and down instead of around the dress, the "Starvation Gown" now being displayed in Chicago, is attracting the attention of stout women. The same model is shown in the two dresses. In one she appears forty pounds stouter than in the other. The dress is made of a combination of stripes and dots, and the stripes are made to be inclined to stoutness. They are happy, healthy and constructed on radically different lines than the thin French. When

READY FOR FIGHT
AT ZACATECAS.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHIHUAHUA (Mex.) Jan. 29.—
Gen. Panfilo Natera of the rebel army reported from the State of Zacatecas yesterday that he had cut off Federal reinforcements advancing to Torreon to the south. He said he probably would attack the city of Zacatecas with a view of establishing a rebel base south of Torreon.

Meantime the rebel advance to Jimenez, half way from Chihuahua to Torreon, has been completed. At Jimenez the rebel army, which will later be joined by Gen. Villa, will direct the attack on the Torreon Federal garrison. The rebel advance south of Jimenez was slow because of the destruction of the railroad.

Chihuahua has now only a small rebel garrison, most of the soldiers
having gone south.

Heated Discussion in Tokio
Over Naval Charges.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Consideration of the Raker bill to exclude Asiatic immigrants was again postponed today by the House Committee having it in charge. The action was generally interpreted in the congress as an indication of the disposition of leaders to work in harmony with the administration on the Japanese negotiations.

Meantime Chairman Burnett is expected to confer further with Secretary Bryan, whose views according to members of the committee, does not favor discussion of the question of the exclusion of Japanese at this time.
Pacific Coast representatives Baker and Hayes of California and Johnson of Washington, again pressed for a decision.

The committee, however, amended
the pending Burnett literacy test
general immigration bill to make it a misdemeanor for one in this country to knowingly aid the entry of aliens who advocate or teach the destruction of property.

Another amendment would raise to five years the provision that any alien may be deported within three years if found advocating or teaching unlawful destruction of property, anarchy,

overthrow of government, or immoral conduct. Secretary Bryan said there was no pending legislation on Japan and the committee would consider a measure which would give immigrants of Japanese race the same rights as those of Japanese race, and which it was said would be a step toward the closing of the Japanese question.

The various proposals to amend the Raker bill have been under consideration but no action has been taken. The committee is now considering the closing of the Japanese question, which was introduced in the White House, but after several stages of discussion, the committee has been unable to reach a decision.

ported commissioning, and announced
the appointment of a naval mission headed by Admiral Minami, which would be sent to investigate the charges.

Flood.

GREELEY, COL., INUNDATED
BY BREAKING OF A DAM.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
Greeley (Colo.) Jan. 29.— Damage estimated tonight at nearly $200,000, was done by the breaking of the dam of the Horse Creek reservoir early this morning, sending a flood of water over the floods, inundating a strip of land ten miles long by three miles wide, and a torrent down Box Elder Creek.

The flood, which for a mile ran a swift current ten feet deep, washed out fifty feet of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad main track, and drowned approximately 250 head of cattle.

The quick action of Dora Shafer,
the 18-year-old daughter of Frederick M. Shafer, living a mile from the dam, saved the lives of the cattle, which were picked up by the men at Quincy west-bound train from plunging through a weakened bridge into Box Elder Creek, where the flood was at its height.

At daylight, when the Shafer family was aroused by the rush of the water, burdened with live and cattle,
Miss Shafer remembered the westbound Burlington train was about due, and knew the bridge across the Box Elder Creek could not hold. She telephoned to Hudson urging that the train be flagged.

At 12 o'clock noon today the thermometer dropped down to 37 above zero, and since 2 a.m. the temperature has been steadily falling.
The cold blast is headed straight from the northwest, and it will be Comparatively little of the city's supply of 2,000,000 tons of coal has been cut. Two or three days of cold weather would make the flood gates of the city's supply

open, and the city would be in a

the cutting of the ice were laid off.

er Hearing Interlocutory Decree.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES. Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to past rulings of the United States Supreme Court, Ethel Campondonio is a bigamist for it is less than a year since she received a divorce decree of the Superior Court from Julius Epstein, San Francisco florist, on the charge of cruelty.

The divorce was not entered by Superior Judge John Van Nostrand until last May, and the law provides that another year must elapse before the divorce becomes final and the divorce is effective.

The Supreme Court so ruled in the case of the widow of John Van Nostrand, the Oakland publisher, when relatives tried to deprive her of her community share in his estate on the ground that she was bigamous because of her divorce.

The court ruled that until such a decree became final a couple were not legally divorced and cohabitation was not a man and wife in the eyes of the law.

Lead to Serious Illness

If you have weak lungs, you are generally subject to colds or throat trouble and are liable to develop pneumonia or bronchitis. In many cases pneumonia or bronchitis is the result of a cold which has been in need condition. Eckman's Alternative weakens the throat and lungs which has been true for me. I have been in the same climate and other treatments have failed. I have been in the same case:

Mr. R. Atlantic Ave., Haddonfield, N. J.
 "Gentlemen: In the fall of 1905 I contracted pneumonia and was confined to my lungs. At last I began to raise myself, but I was not able to get up. I went to California immediately. At this time I was in the hospital. I was in the hospital stayed at home and commenced taking Eckman's Alternative. I began to improve, and the first week I began to resume my regular occupation, having been confined to bed for three weeks. I am now seven years since my recovery and I am in the best of health. I am Eckman's Alternative too highly."

NOTE: (Above abbreviated: more on request.)
 Eckman's Alternative is the most effective remedy for colds, pneumonia, bronchitis, throat trouble, asthma, Stomach Colds, Catarrhs, Acute and Chronic Bronchitis, Narcotics, poisons, habit-forming drugs, etc. For the Owl Drug Co. and leading druggists. Write for booklet telling of recovery.

LAWMAKERS LOSE APPEAL.
Supreme Court Refuses Writ to West Virginia Legislators Convicted of Election Bribery.
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHARLESTON (W. Va.) Jan. 29.—The State Supreme Court of Appeals refused today writs of error in the case of five members of the West Virginia legislature convicted last summer of bribery in connection with the United States Senatorial election earlier in the year.

YUAN REVIVES CONFUCIANISM.
STATE RELIGION IS PRESCRIBED BY CHINA'S PRESIDENT.

Administrative Council Passes the Measure, Which Is Submitted by Yuan Shi Kai Himself, with the Idea of Inclining the Nation Toward Religious Influences.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]
PEKING (China) Jan. 29.—A bill prescribing the worship of heaven and Confucius by the President of the Chinese republic was passed today by the Administrative Council, which took the place of the Chinese Parliament, recently dissolved by President Yuan Shi Kai.

The measure was submitted to the council by Yuan Shi Kai himself. It is understood that the President's idea is to set an example to the Chinese nation, which he thinks needs the moral building influence of religion. The President will worship at the Temple of Heaven annually in the spring, and the Manchurian emperors did, but without wearing the diadem. The diadem was proposed, but was not adopted, owing to criticism.

UNCLE SAM ON GUARD AS HAITI POT SIMMERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Quiet prevailed at Port-au-Prince today when Capt. Russell, commanding the battleship South Carolina, reported to the Navy Department by wireless that it would not be necessary to reinforce the detachment of sixty bluejackets already landed in the Haitian capital from the armored cruiser Montana to protect foreigners and their property.

Capt. Russell said, however, that he had sent ashore a medical officer with twelve marines to aid in caring for islanders wounded during the fighting Thursday, when President Oreste abandoned his post and fled to the capital.

The policy to be adopted by the United States regarding Haiti, which has been left without a government by the flight of the President at the approach of revolutionaries, will depend upon developments.

The Haitian constitution provides that in case of a vacancy in the Presidency the Cabinet Ministers shall call the national assembly in session within ten days and that body shall fill the vacancy. If this constitutional method is followed now, the State Department probably will not object to the recognition of the new government in Haiti.

There is doubt, however, as to the ability of Oreste's Cabinet to get together and issue a call for the national assembly.

Do Your Savings Earn 5% Compound Interest?

Savings Bank depositors and others whose funds are bringing them a return of less than 5 per cent.—compounded semi-annually—should call and learn about the facilities, strength and rapid growth of this second-floor bank.

The large saving which we effect by having our banking rooms on the second floor, the small amount invested in furniture and fixtures, and our low administrative expense—enables us to pay 5 per cent. COMPOUND INTEREST WITH ABSOLUTE SAFETY on term savings deposits of any amount from $1 to $5000—and 4 per cent. on additional sums.

We transact a general savings and commercial banking business, and solicit the accounts of individuals, firms, clubs, churches, societies, etc. Note the names of the well-known business men who actively direct this bank's affairs:

SIX WARRANTS GIVE WARNING.

Anti-Saloon Campaign Brings Climax in Fight.

Sheriff Receives Letter of Threats for Japs.

Presents to Hospital Nurses Lead to Arrest.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A climax to the no-saloon campaign in the city came this afternoon when six warrants were issued by Dist.-Atty. R. B. Goodell on charges of fraudulent registration on the part of Alvin Dill-bene, Walter B. Myer, Charles V. Mashik, E. J. Carey, Raymond Forbes and William Smith.

All three of them, from rooming houses or hotels, and the no-saloon committee alleges it has affidavits that most of the men have not lived at the places from which they have registered or that they have not been in the State a sufficient time to have gained a residence.

The no-saloon committee also states it has evidence against other registrations which will be used if the parties attempt to vote, stating the warrants asked for today were merely a warning to others.

The liquor men's committee assert they are as anxious to keep down illegal registrations as the "drys," and that they will co-operate in prosecuting any such practices.

THREATENING JAPS.

Sheriff Ralphs today received another anonymous letter relative to the presence of Japanese in the Rialto district. The letter asserted the writers are not members of the I. W. W., but are white men who have families to support, and that if they don't get work the Japanese are now doing they cannot pay their honest bills. The letter goes on to say if the grocers of Rialto do not cease hiring them they will blow up the packing-houses and run the Japs out, even at cost of their lives.

Deviant from the practices of the letters are being followed up and the officers hope yet to uncover their authorship, though they are inclined to believe it to be a crank.

However, the continued receipt of the letters has caused some worryment to be felt here, and the Japs are being taken to give any possible trouble.

BURGLARY CHARGE.

Frank Birch is facing a burglary charge as a result of attempting to win the good graces of some of the nurses at the County Hospital by bestowing small jewelry trinkets on them. He was and the articles were part of the loot taken from the Parks residence on Rialto avenue recently, the loss in that robbery being about $250.

When arrested, Birch also was wearing a pair of pants taken from the same residence. He is a painter by trade, but has been at the hospital recently as a laborer. A thread of human interest developed in his case when a letter was found in Birch's pocket from a sister in New Jersey, in which she would try to send him some money though she said she needed it for the babies, also that his aged mother there is dying.

NEWS RIFE.

Two men who give the names of R. L. David and Robert Van Ness are under arrest on a charge of forgery and passing bogus checks. They were arrested at the Rialto packing houses by forging the name of Ben W. Campion, manager of the local house of the Cudahy Company. The men are charged with passing bogus checks to pay their hotel bill with another check of the same character. The men are strangers here and have thus far declined to give the names of their pals.

FIGHT OVER FREE TOLLS STIRRED

[BY DIRECT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator O'Gorman today attempted to have abrogated the free tolls of American coastwise ships clause of the Panama Canal Act he will precipitate the first big fight in Congress of his administration.

Congressmen of all shades of political opinion today denounced a recent published announcement that the President intended to soon send a message to Congress advising repeal of the free tolls clause.

"Trucking to England," "Afraid of the Japanese interference in Mexico suggested co-operation of England and Japan in the southern republic," "Badly advised by interests secretly representing the transcontinental railroads"—these were some of the criticisms made by Congressmen today of the President's reported intention to repeal the tolls.

Members of the President's own party are against abrogation of free tolls. Published statements that Senator O'Gorman is a "free toll" man, the whole clan of administration supporters and the principal advocate in the Senate, are pointing out that the President, in Congress over that part of the canal legislation, has agreed to agree with the President, are without foundation.

Senator O'Gorman, who has stated positively today, will lead the fight in the Senate to defeat any attempt to repeal the tolls.

Representative Knowland of California today declared that if the President yield to Great Britain in the free tolls clause, he would be the whole canal act and cause repeal of other clauses of the law. Knowland pointed out that the British protest is not only against free tolls, but against that clause in the law which gives the Republic of Panama a stipend free of charge through the canal, this provision having been inserted in conformity with a previous treaty with Panama when the clause some was added to the law.

The protest concerning this clause could not be regarded without violating the treaty with Panama.

A purse-snatcher is still working in this city. Last night he approached an aged woman who is almost deaf, and grabbed her purse containing $90. The robbery occurred in a thely part of the city and as the chief came up behind her the woman uttered a shriek and a description of him. Several similar robberies have occurred in recent weeks, but the officers have been unable to get trace of the identity of the robber.

A HERO OF THE STREETS.
San Francisco Man Fatally Injured in Attempt to Save Life of Chinese Boy in Runaway Carriage.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Risking his life to save that of a Chinese boy in a runaway, James Wall, an employee of a draying firm, today was fatally injured when the wagon ran over him.
The boy, Lee Kwong, 12 years old, was riding on a delivery wagon. The driver left the wagon at Washington and Stockton streets to deliver some packages. When the little oriental started climbing aboard the vehicle.
The horses became frightened and started to run, and the lid slipped to the tongue of the wagon. Holding on for dear life and screaming, the little fellow was in danger of falling backward and death. The driver ran from a house and, jumping aboard, vainly sought to stop the runaway team.
Patrolman T. W. Handley and Wall rushed out to the rescue. They became confused. Each grabbed the other and both were tossed aside. Wall struck on his head, was knocked unconscious and the wagon passed over his head. Handley was killed.
The team continued on its wild run and collided with an automobile at the Hall of Justice. James Neeley, driver of the car, was killed. White rushed to the street and stopped the horses as they were kicking the wagon's pieces and rescued the Chinese youth.

Arizona.
COUNTY WAR
OVER BRIDGES.

Final Gila and Graham Disagree About Sites.

Los Angeles Girl Placed in Charge of Hunt.

Minining Town Greets Auto for the First Time.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

GLOBE (Ariz.), Jan. 24.—Something like warfare is promised between the residents of Pinal county on the one side and of Gila and Graham counties on the other. The latter two, favored with a large appropriation for bridges, are hunting for sites for bridges across the Gila and San Carlos rivers, have decided that they want the structures built along the line of the present highways crossing the San Carlos. Instead of the more locations designed to be above the possibility of flooding after the construction of the proposed San Carlos dam, the residents of Pinal county contend that the project for the dam is more or less vague and that it may not be built at all, and that the cost of the bridges will be added to the expense of moving the bridges when the time arrives than it would be to the time and expense that will be needed to utilize the bridges at their remote locations. But this view of the matter is far from striking the residents of Gila and Graham counties, and they are rising for unanimous protest against further governmental expenditure in the San Carlos valley. It is considered that the valley, submerged under the waters of a reservoir created for the further development of copper, would be better off. The situation is peculiarly interesting for Arizona Representatives to Congress, upon whom may be placed the question of the location of the bridges.

GRACE EVANS DISCHARGED.

Judge Shute has discharged Grace Evans, a woman charged with the murder of her husband, on the grounds that she was a Territorial law concerning delinquent and incorrigible children, so the girl is now at liberty, under the care of her aunt, Mrs. C. C. Evans, of Los Angeles. The local attorney for Mrs. Evans states she has no further interest in the case.

METCALF SEES AN AUTO.

Metcalf, in Chase Creek Canyon, five miles above Clifton, is a town of about 100 inhabitants, several thousand of whom are employed near by in the mines of the Shannon, Arizona Copper and Detroit mining companies. Yet there has been no automobile in the canyon since the little Metz machine was brought over the hills by Hal Young of Clifton. It is considered that it is a fact that Metcalf has no roads or streets worthy of the name, although the mine is one of the best means of two mining railroads, operated by the Shannon and Arizona Copper companies.

FIGHT ON FREE TOLLS STIRRED UP BY WILSON.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES. Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If President Wilson attempts to have abrogated the free tolls of American coastwise ships clause of the Panama Canal Act he will precipitate the first big fight in Congress of his administration.

Congressmen of all shades of political opinion today denounced a recent published announcement that the President intended to soon send a message to Congress advising repeal of the free tolls clause.

"Trucking to England," "Afraid of the Japanese interference in Mexico suggested co-operation of England and Japan in the southern republic," "Hastily advised by interests secretly representing the proposed canal railroads"—these were some of the criticisms made by Congressmen today of the President's reported intention to repeal the tolls.

Members of the President's own party are against abrogation of free tolls. "The President," says one, "Senator O'Gorman of New York, one of the chief administration supporters and the principal advocate in the Senate for the free tolls during the battle in Congress over that part of the canal legislation, has agreed to agree with the President, are without foundation. Senator O'Gorman's vote was cast positively today, will lead the fight in the Senate to defeat any attempt to repeal the tolls."

Representative Knowland of California today declared that if the President yields to Great Britain in the free tolls fight, it will destroy the whole canal act and cause repeal of other clauses of the law. He pointed out that the British protest is not only against free tolls, but against that clause in the law which gives the Republic of Panama complete free passage through the canal, this provision having been inserted in conformity with a previous treaty with Panama when the canal was first opened.

Knowland bitterly criticized Wilson today, declaring:

"We know nothing about Mr. Wilson's intentions, except the fact of the so-called White House conference after which it was reported that the President will ask Congress to repeal free tolls."

"No official announcement has been made from the White House regarding the proposed abrupt surrender to Great Britain in this matter, but it is certain."

GOETHALS' NAME GOES IN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—President Wilson set the nomination of Col. George W. Goethals to be Governor of the Panama Canal Zone after Adj. Gen. Clegg was Senate today.

As chairman of the isthmian Canal Commission, Col. Goethals now is paid $15,000 a year. The Panama Canal zone salary of the Governor at $10,000.

Representative Britten of Illinois introduced a bill today to amend the law which provides that the Governor shall hold office so long as Col. Goethals holds the office.

Secretary Garrison made public today the fact that he had told Col. Goethals by him January 27:

"In connection with the President's intention to appoint you Governor, may I say that I have no desire to retire from service so long as he feels your services are needed?"

Col. Goethals' answer was: "Referring to your cable of 27th inst., relative to Governorship, will not retire so long as my services are needed."

FIVE PRISONS MAKE "NICKELS."

[NOT A P. NIGHT WORTH TO THE TIMES.]

JULY (Ill.) Jan. 29.—Five convicts who have been making counterfeit 6-cent pieces in the machine shop of the prison here, were detected today. The nickels were pressed in the prison store. The leaders were F. Collins, a tinsmith, and Andrew Schock, a machinist, both of whom are serving life terms for robbery. The others assisted in robbing capacities. They made probably five hundred nickels and had them ready for sale at the state penitentiary, none of which, however, had been used.

Unionists Employed Near Ft. Smith

Refused To Work for Coal Company

[NOT A P. NIGHT WORTH TO THE TIMES.]

TU. SMITH (Ark.) Jan. 29.—One thousand union coal miners employed by the Central Coal and Coke Company at Fayetteville, Mo., near Huntington and Bonanza, near Union left on strike today. The union adherents refused to abide by the decision of the company's attorney, who found in favor of four men so said they were not given work mine at Hartford, although some employment.

Members of the President's own party are against abrogation of free tolls. Published statements that Senator O'Gorman of New York, one of the chief administration supporters and a principal advocate, introduced a bill today to amend the law to make the salary of the Governor $15,000 so long as Col. Goethals holds the office.

Secretary Garrison made public today this cablegram sent to Col. Goethals by him January 27:

Senators for free tolls during the battle in Congress over that part of the canal legislation, has agreed to agree with the President's position. "If the President," Senator O'Gorman, "was stated positively today, will lead the fight in the Senate to defeat any attempt to repeal."

Representative Knowland of California today declared that if the President yielded to Great Britain, in the tolls to be paid, it would mean that the whole canal act and cause repeal of other clauses of the law. "I am not a priori," he said, "in favor of British protest is not only against free tolls, but against that clause in the law which gives the Republic of Panama passage through the canal, this provision having been inserted in conformity with a previous treaty with Panama when the canal was first opened."

"The protest concerning this clause could not be regarded without violating the treaty with Panama."

In connection with the President's intention to appoint the Governor, "I may assure him you do not desire to retire from service so long as he feels your services are needed."

WATTS WARS
ON COMPTON.Union High School District
Is Bone of Contention.Verbal Vitiol Is Spilled at Meeting of Rivals.Boosters of Project Plan
Heavy Bond Issue.

The opening gun of a war that threatens to disrupt the Compton Union High School district was fired by the Watts contingent at a meeting in the auditorium of the High School at Compton Wednesday night, called by a committee of Watts boosters to discuss the proposed $100,000 bond issue for a new High School building and the possibility of having Watts made the home of the school.

The committee was headed by Peebles Shoff and J. S. Lange. Lange, taking the chair, antagonized the Compton faction in his first statement, which was to the effect that the people of Watts were there to change the location of the school, but that the rest of the district helped or not, Watts proposed to change it.

Lange made the statement that the present building had been condemned and must be torn down. President McClellan of the school board denied the saying he had accompanied the grand jury when it inspected the building, and the only thing found was that, owing to the overcrowded condition of the school, some of the classes were being held in the basement.

Lange advanced the argument that Watts would be more accessible as a location for the school than Compton, as Watts is on the car line and can be reached from any point in the district in nine minutes. Watts can be readily reached from a large territory lying north and, he stated, a canvas shows that the Graham, Florence, Russell and Manchester districts are all in building a high school at Watts.

In reply to this, Fry of Clearwater stated that at present the children are taken to and from school by wagon and that there are several pupils living two or three miles from a car line. If they were forced to depend on the cars, he said, they could not be regular in attendance.

In regard to the additional territory there are already two-thirds as many children from it in the High School as there are from Watts, so that evidently the location is not an obstacle, Lange exhibited photographs, taken Tuesday, which shows the street leading to the present school inundated by water. This was the bomb that broke up the meeting.

One of the Compton adherents said: "The whole country was under water Tuesday. It is certainly unfair to ask out the worst storm in fifty years to try to show that the school is inaccessible in wet weather. Watts was just as wet as Compton."

WATTS UNITED!
For one of few times in its history Watts is united. Everyone is willing to listen to reason, but so far we have heard no reasonable arguments in favor of moving the school. The transportation question presents no difficulties. We have been a little slow about getting the pupils to school, but next fall we shall put motor trucks into service. We already have a building that will accommodate all the pupils as well as a science building, just completed at a cost of $5000. We intend to enlarge the school and give four additional years, making it a local college course. But if we incur the expense of moving to Watts this will be impossible for the present, at least."

ESTATE CONTENT ENDED.

Supreme Court Decides Purcell Bequest to Charity May Be Disposed of By Residuary Legatee.
The State Supreme Court has decided that clause seventeen of the will of the late Mary B. Purcell did not create a residuary trust, and that therefore the residuary legatee, Charles A. Purcell, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Purcell, who lives at Oak Park, Ill., is at liberty to select the charitable institutions or works upon which to lavish $250,000 bequeathed to Purcell under the will for that purpose.

The original estate of Mrs. Purcell amounted to $450,000. She left specific bequests of $141,000 of that amount, the balance of the estate being given to Purcell for charitable uses. The heirs at law claimed that under the laws of California a precatory trust had been created by the devise, and only one-third of the estate could legally go to charitable purposes.

The section of the will attacked by the appeal from the order of distribution made by Probate Judge Rives, after devising to Purcell the balance of the estate after paying the special bequests including $20,000 to himself, was as follows: "It has always been my desire and purpose to devote a large part of my property and estate to charitable purposes and uses, and to make provision therefor in my will. But under the exigencies of the will I am not now able to designate the particular charities and benevolent institutions to which I desire to extend my bounty." Further along Purcell is requested to carry out her wishes without, however, intending to create any trust or to place any limitation upon him in respect to the legacy.

BACK TO CHINA.

Ten Chinese of the "transit" brand went north last night for San Francisco, bound back to their native land. This disposal of all the transients here, with the exception of two who are held as witnesses in smuggling cases, and three who will be returned to Mexico, within the sixty days more than 200 Chinese have been picked up in the Imperial Valley and sent to China at the expense of the steamship companies which brought them over. But the companies lost nothing on the transaction, for they collected the price of a round-trip ticket before the Chinese left home.

UP NOW, SOON COMING DOWN.

COST OF LIVING AFFECTED BY THE RECENT RAINS.

Eggs, Butter, Potatoes and Some Other Articles Sell at High Figures, but Will Be Cheaper in a Few Days—Citrus Fruit Is Plentiful at Low Prices.

For the immediate present the recent rains, beneficial as they will prove to have been later, have not done much to lower the "high cost of living." A little longer delay to rains might have meant almost a famine in eggs, butter and potatoes.

Cucumbers have disappeared so scarce that they have jumped up several cents in price. Eggs are selling from 45 to 50 cents a dozen at retail, despite the fact that the hens have been getting down to business and the yield has been increasing rapidly during the month. Butter sells up to 40 cents where it was selling as low as 35.

Then, too, the rain has put out of supply quite a number of vegetables—some that, because of the mild fall and winter, have been plentiful until a few days ago. Tomatoes might be placed at the head of the list. They were selling for about 11 cents a box, but the only kind obtainable now are those from the hothouse, which bring $2 per small basket.

Cucumbers have disappeared entirely as far as the field variety is concerned. The hothouse variety sells for 15 to 25 cents each. String beans have been strung out by war and green varieties are all gone. Peas are still hanging on, but are selling for 15 cents a pound at retail. Egg plant has jumped with the other vegetables, and all the bunch varieties have moved up a few cents.

For the immediate present, and onions are so high that only the wealthy can afford to buy them soon. The great Sacramento and Stockton River fields have been flooded, and Los Angeles depends largely on that district for its winter supply. The best "onions" have jumped from 12 up to 25 within a few days.

Delay of onion shipments and a natural shortage of the crop has caused the market to advance almost 25 cents a day, and at wholesale they were selling up to $4.50 per hundred yesterday, which means $5 by the time they reach the consumer, if not more.

A week of fair weather will do wonders for many varieties of green vegetables and will bring the prices down. Already Imperial Valley has shipped in some green corn—the earliest in years, as a result of a late rain and more fair weather in that southern portion of the State.

It is probably only a matter of a few days before eggs and butter will be lower than they have been for months, the green feed and spring weather causing a rapid increase in production, and possibly the delayed shipments will help for a short time to swamp the markets and give everyone an opportunity of saving some cash.

Citrus fruits are as cheap as they have been for many months. Rains have delayed the shipment of lemons and much fruit intended for distant markets is coming into the city, so that oranges of very fair quality at 10 cents a dozen are not unusual, and at 20 cents the finest fruit is obtainable. Lemons, grape fruit, tangerines and limes are all selling at low figures.

Where Are Unemployed.

out file on the Pasadena line at Sycamore Grove and Highland Park. These men are in addition to a large contingent of bridge carpenters and concrete men hired to make skilled repairs.

GOOD LONG JOBS.

Though the work is of the emergency variety many of the men will be employed for some weeks, as the mere opening of a line of washed-out track does not mean that permanent repairs have been completed. The city also has about $60,000 worth of repairs to make and the county as much, while individual property owners have to make extensive outlays to repair storm damage.

Expressed in figures, if Southern California lost $500,000 as a result of the storm, the labor bill for making repairs will be at least half as much, or $250,000. This is not a large sum when compared with the credit sheet of a United States Sub-Treasury today. The Salt Lake also expects to make a good many pockets of repairs. The Salt Lake also expects to make a good many pockets of repairs.

Steady progress was made yesterday by the railroad in cleaning up storm damage. The Santa Fe and Salt Lake now have the use of all their lines east. In fact, the first road reported everything in clear yesterday, except on the Fallbrook branch and that will be "brought in" today. The Salt Lake also expects to make a good many pockets of repairs.

The District Court of Appeal yesterday reversed the judgment of Judge Craig, denying a new trial to Joe Principio and Vito Caputo, who were found guilty by a jury of arson in the first degree. The court finds that there was no evidence adduced to justify a verdict. The men were mixed up in the "Black Hand" escapades resulted in the burning of the store of Ricardo Trapini, some months ago in this city.

PUTTING ON AIRS.

Instead of voting money to preserve its mission, mourning wall, historic mountains and other pilgrim-sought features, Jerusalem has voted bonds for electric lights and has granted a franchise for an electric car from that city to Bethlehem. They don't seem to realize that this is no time for the New Jerusalem.

WORSE AND MORE OF IT.

Anna Held is reputed to be a claimant for a large estate left in San Francisco by a murdered woman. It is bad enough to have Anna taking away this country's money at $1 to $2 a seat to spend in Paris on gowns which she only uses for undressing; but to have her lifting it in $60,000 lots is too much. This country ought to expatriate Anna Held.

A BETTER JOB.

Making Col. Goethals the first Governor of the Canal Zone is vastly better than appointing him chief of police of New York. It probably will not pay as well as the New York berth might under a business administration, but the American public will retain the services of a capable man instead of having his fine energy limited to a city and position requiring more muscle than brains.

DANGEROUS.

A member of a grand jury in West Virginia helped to indict himself, furnishing enough evidence for his conviction. The judge accepted his plea and suspended his sentence. He will never do wrong again when he is on the grand jury. Assuming an obligation is always a serious business. One sometimes has the conscience to live up to it. Better a life of no standards than a double standard.

LOTS OF THEM.

A duchess got herself shipwrecked on the coast of Colombia. We have heard of worse things. For instance, no less than 1000 queens were marooned on Los Angeles curbstone Monday night after the heavy rain and at the close of the theater. The only pity was that there were not 1000 Donald O'Briens to rush to the rescue. The dear girls had to be content with the services of their unromantic sweethearts and husbands.

UTILITARIAN.

A man in New York, who is a big politician and who has been a witness in a Tammany graft case, has been afflicted suddenly with a malady which baffles the court. He is suffering from a loss of memory. He received $41,000, as a perfectly good and well-used return check shows, but he cannot remember any of the details regarding the trivial transaction. These lost memories have in the past been confined too largely to husbands who wanted to get away from home. The disease, if it may be so termed, seems to have a larger value, and it is interesting to see it placed on a business basis.

MAN NOT AID.

All credit to the S.P.C.A., the professors of biology and psychology and the studious habits of horned toads and winged creatures! The century of aesthetic animalism has ushered in the age of aesthetics in the animal kingdom. A few days ago we read the advice of a musician and a poultry raiser who asserted that the best way to make hens lay was to provide them phonograph music at least once a day. Now a Superior Court judge has declared that cows are temperamental and that the best way to make the "gentle kins" produce the most and the richest lactical fluid is to make them happy. We can well remember the time when such things would have been smiled at, but that day has passed. We no longer laugh at the mention of the extreme sensitiveness of the cyther, the forceful character of the clam, the profundity and optimism of the lobster. Nature no longer takes its course. Man now relieves it of all responsibility.

THE DRAIN OF ARMIES.

The increased armament of France has resulted in a treasury deficit for the current year of $200,000,000 and an estimated deficit for the pending year of $30,000,000. This is irrespective of the millions expended in Morocco. The government, having adjusted all other measures of taxation, and not being encouraged by the bankers of Europe to believe that a new loan can be negotiated, has concluded to follow the example of Germany and levy a special tax on fortunes.

Seven hundred thousand able-bodied Frenchmen are withdrawn from productive industries and kept idle in barracks and camps at an annual cost to the taxpayers of $150,000,000. Germany has 600,000 soldiers maintained at a cost of $120,000,000 per annum, and Great Britain maintains 400,000 soldiers at an annual cost of $275,000,000. These three leading countries of Europe, with a population of 140,000,000 people, have armies aggregating 1,700,000 men, maintained at a cost of $545,000,000, while the United States, with 100,000,000 people, maintains only about 80,000 soldiers at a cost of less than $50,000,000. There is some advantage to a nation in being ocean-bound.

SHELBY MOORE CULLOM.

A great man is dead. Senator Shelby Cullom was a towering figure among statesmen, and for over fifty years his strong energies loyally served his party and this nation. History already records him as one of the few—the very few—who stood as a faithful and sympathetic friend by the side of Lincoln during the darkest days this republic has ever known.

Senator Cullom was one who sought neither the plaudits of the gallery nor the acclamations of the mob. He was not a mere politician, but a real statesman—a leader among those stalwart and courageous statesmen whose lives and works and allegiance to the principles of the Republican party have been so efficient and so dignified that throughout the width and breadth of the United States it is honorably designated as the Grand Old Party.

He was a pioneer of the stock from which Lincoln came. The Cullom forebears were courageous as their convictions were strong, and shortly after Shelby was born they left their home and lands in Kentucky and moved to Illinois that they might be able to live in a "free State."

As a youth Senator Cullom endured the hardships of the frontier, and early in life acquired one of those meager educations so common to the indomitable sons of pioneers, and which, with increased opportunity, was rapidly amplified into scholarly proportions. On being admitted to the practice of law in 1855 he at once identified himself with the Republican party; from that day until his death he was closely associated with his party, serving it in the Legislature of Illinois, in the House of Representatives, as Governor of Illinois, as United States Senator and on various commissions, including that which established the government of Hawaii. It was he who nominated Grant for the Presidency in 1872.

Senator Cullom was ever the foe of demagogues and "faddists." His faith was rooted in the Constitution of the United States and he never indulged in, nor was shaken by, the flamboyant oratory of mushroom reformers. Principles, not theories, he championed. It was his privilege to see this nation grow from a small, rebellious republic into a broad and democratic country under administrations that were loyal to those principles of liberty, equality and protection under the law.

In the laborious and exacting work of building and shaping the destiny of this nation, for over a generation he was given a prominent and important part. His was a wise council and faith in it was never misplaced. Duty was the guidon toward which he marched; responsibilities and difficulties brought no complaint from his lips. In the fullest sense the American people may say of him: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." A great man is dead.

PREPARED FOR I.W.W.'S.

From experience and observation the Chicago police seem to have learned the most efficient methods of dealing with I.W.W.'s and others of the anarchistic trouble-making stripe. That experience dates back to the terrible days of the Haymarket riots when men were murdered by lawless labor agitators. That observation has included the efficient manner in which the police department of Los Angeles deals with the seditious followers of anarchy and Socialism.

Recently a number of agitators of the soap-box variety have appeared on the streets of Chicago declaiming against "capitalists" and urging the lawless to plunder stores for the purpose of taking what is wanted. The police made many arrests. At once there followed cowardly and anonymous threatening letters, ordering the police to release the prisoners—or be dynamited. But the threat is hardly an advantageous means of arguing with free-born Americans sworn to uphold the law. Knowing that the I.W.W.'s are vicious enough to make trouble if given the slightest opportunity, the Chicago police have already begun a campaign which will require all looters and conspirators to give a good account of themselves to get out of the city, or to go to jail.

Los Angeles learned long ago that the only way to maintain law and order is to keep prepared for the labor union guerrillas and political loafers who are only industrious in making trouble. Recently the Socialists attempted to create a reign of terror by harrying in all of the tramps and hoodlums that could be collected and circulated that "army of unemployed" myth, they found the local police ready and fearless. It was only by quick and efficient work that the plot was crushed with but one riot and so little bloodshed.

It is by the same kind of work that other cities can maintain peace and order against the migratory invasion of the "reds" who swarm from place to place ready to plunder, riot and even murder in the name of labor organizations. The police of Chicago deserve commendation for their attitude, and if the police departments of other cities would follow the example of Los Angeles, the organized hoodlums, prattling about "capitalism" only as an excuse for idleness, would find the profession of trouble-making less profitable.

A NEW COTTON COUNTRY.

A Lord Kitchener is proving to be one of the great benefactors of his generation. Years ago Khartoum, where the Nile branches into two prongs known as the White and Blue Nile, was a miserable little African village where the Mahdi held his court. Lord Kitchener conquered the Mahdi. Then he drove Mahdism from the country by constructing railroads and developing Khartoum into a thriving and enterprising little city, the capital of the great province of the Sudan, which, consisting of some thousands of square miles of territory, lies between the southern boundary of Egypt and the northern shore of Lake Albert Nyanza.

The increasing demand of the world for cotton goods has caused a search for cotton lands. A vast tract of such lands has been found in Egypt. Between the White and the Blue Nile lies the district known as Gezirah. "Here," says an eastern exchange, "some 1,000,000 acres of land, today, desolate and almost useless, can, it is believed, by utilizing the waters of the two Niles, be rendered not only fertile but one of the finest cotton-growing districts imaginable. The course of the two rivers, as they flow to their junction at Khartoum, is very like that of the Rhone and the Saone at Lyons, made famous in the historic metaphor of Pitt. The Blue Nile comes raging out of Abyssinia. The White Nile flows steadily up from the great lakes. The meeting of the streams causes a gigantic overflow, and it is this which Lord Kitchener proposes to take advantage of for the storing of the waters for irrigation. The torrent of the Blue Nile will be permitted, in flood time, to race down past the junctions of the rivers into Egypt, but the course of the White Nile will, during the time of flood, be stayed and sent to water the country which so badly needs it. When the time of flood is past the waters of both rivers will be released and will flow down once more into Egypt, after the irrigator has leveled his toll in the shape of the once wasted overflow. In order to regulate the flow of the rivers, the stream of each branch will be dammed. Thirty miles south of Khartoum the waters of the White Nile will reach a great barrage which will restrain and store them. A couple of hundred miles south of Khartoum, at Sennar, the Blue Nile will be dammed also for the purpose of irrigation.

The result will be the conversion of a land which a few years ago was held in the grasp of the most cruel of eastern despots, in a condition of misery, poverty and slavery, into a prosperous province. It is only a few years since Lord Kitchener overcame Mahdism with the railway. Today he is developing the territory of the Mahdi with the river. So great an opportunity has been granted to few men, but there are fewer still who would have known how to take advantage of that opportunity if it had come to them.

It is dangerous for a journalist to attack or defend the political views of President Wilson. The article written on Wednesday cannot find its way into print before Thursday or Friday, and in the meantime the President may have "hopped."

The declarations of his party platform "cut no ice" with the President. The doctrines of Jefferson and Jackson and the Democratic fathers, he totally disregards. Even his own solemn pre-election utterances are treated with undisguised contempt—as doubtless they ought to be by others but not by himself.

In his "New Freedom," Mr. Wilson says that Alexander Hamilton was not a great American. Now, less than two years afterward, he favors the Hamiltonian theory of the subordination of the States and the supremacy of the Federal government is urged upon the country by Woodrow Wilson in his anti-trust law message.

Trusts are the offspring of corporations and corporations are created under State laws. Over their operations within the State of their creation the Congress of the United States has no legislative power and the courts of the United States no jurisdiction. States can enact laws, and have been found not unwilling to enact laws, to protect the public from corporate aggressions. The Republican party under the leadership of John Sherman many years ago was a pioneer in the protective legislation which found form in the Sherman act, and a number of States have enacted similar acts.

The trouble has been not with the Sherman law, but with the non-enforcement of it. "Roosevelt tampered with it and in one instance—that of the purchase of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company properties by the steel trust—brazenly granted permission to violate it."

Taft attempted its enforcement. He was successful in destroying the Standard Oil trust and the American Tobacco Company trust and the example of the enforcement of law afforded by their destruction caused many smaller trusts to discontinue their illegal operations.

With the advent to power of Mr. Wilson the policy of making another anti-trust law to take the place of the Sherman law instead of enforcing the Sherman law was adopted. It is not probable that any statute that the ingenuity of the President can frame will enable "trust busters" to do more than has been and can again be accomplished under the Sherman act, or will change the scope or effect of the repeated decisions that corporations cannot be reached by the Federal courts for unlawful combinations in restraint of trade, where the act complained of has been done wholly within the State of their creation.

PASS CHRISTIAN.

WALT MASON IN THE TIMES.

Pass Christian, which is now on tap, was never known till recently, and then it sprang upon the map with energy, yet decently. I know not if it be a town, nor what the games they're playing there; you cannot keep a good Pass down when Presidents are playing there. Pass Christian, by the public sheets, has boasted been most cleverly, but silence broods upon the streets and in the halls of Beverly. One burg goes up, another down, for burgs are like humanity; humiliation holds one down, while one swells up with vanity. Pass Christian throbbed upon the wires for its brief day, however, while silent were the minarels, lyres, and hushed the bells of Beverly. Pass Christian by excitement tossed, saw crowded every hostelry, until her citizens were lost in all the crush and jostling; no one known, the next day great, was ever like emergency? Serene and proud she faced her fate, quite equal to the urgency; to entertain her horde of guests she met them all endeavor, while sorrow filled the manly breasts and chilled the hearts at Beverly.

Calls the Church a Harbor for Some of the Worst Sinners.

In the February Woman's Home Companion, a contributor writes a very important and interesting article entitled "Why Fifty Women Do Not Go to Church." A woman tells, as follows, why she has given up church-going.

"The trouble with the church is that it has developed into a sort of harbor for those who are flying from their sins. People repent of their sins, and join the church to save their own souls, which is a very natural but a selfish reason. They join the church not from any broad love of humanity or desire for service, but because they desire to escape damnation. The fundamental requirement, according to orthodox, is not works but faith; no matter how upright and irreproachable a man's life has been; no matter how benevolent nor how broad his service to humanity; no matter what good he has accomplished in the world, if he has not accepted the orthodox faith he is lost. On the other hand, a man may have been a lifelong criminal with scarcely a redeeming act, but when he comes to die he makes some sort of confession of faith and passes on to eternal bliss. I like to think of the gates of mercy as being ever ajar, but it is ridiculous to contend that the just and upright man whose only fault was lack of faith will be shut out."

A Timely Suggestion.

"[Puck:] 'I took a long walk yesterday,' said Boreman, as he collapsed into a seat at Buzman's desk. 'Take another, old man,' suggested Buzman: 'It'll do you both good.'"

A Frank Sultor.

[Boston Transcript:] Old Kitchener: So you want to marry my daughter. What are your prospects, may I ask? Sultor: Excellent, sir, if I get her. I know you'll do the handsome thing by us."

PEGASUS UNHITCHED.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

Some weeks ago I penned a thoughtful little essay on the gentle art of writing poetry. The blooming proof-reader, however, knowing me to be in the chicken business, suffered it to pass into type under the caption, "Gentle Art in Weighing Poultry." The reckless make-up man completed the tragedy by running the stuff on the market page, where few of our benign and blissful bouquet of hardy ever behold it.

What I mentioned then and would now further emphasize is the British decadence in so many avenues of human effort in which superiority was once manifest. This is no new discovery of mine, but fresh evidences, accumulating every day, compel renewed attention and comment. There are hardly any championships left with the Britons and even in their specialties of golf and polo they have been out-driven and out-briden by upstart Americans. Now that Woodrow Wilson has taken to wearing a monocle I fancy that by another month he will have Lord Churchill peeled to the waist as a wearer of the solitaire windshield.

In the matter of verse the retrogression has been something fierce. Since the balmy days of Alf, Tennyson the laureate of England have been a series of mildewed hams who in this country couldn't get the job of writing local notices for the Red Front Livery Stables.

I am no accredited verse-monger; my poetic feet do not tick, but I think I know poetry when I meet it face to face under the light, and I am dead sore on the British output. I only have a dog license here, but I fancy I could work it off for a poetic license anywhere from Kent to Sussex without being under suspicion. Once I made "amara" rhyme with "Lothario," and I'd like to see any bard of Britain get away with that!

Of the alleged poets of England the one most discussed at this time is Ezra Pound. Our Longfellow once wrote a poem with the title "Pegasus in Pound" and this is indeed he. But we can beat England and give better measure right here in our own yard. If the British get their poetry by the Pound we can have ours by the Peck. Obediah Peck, "the larist of Pierian Springs," in Engleclade. Although of bent and bony frame he is an all-round athlete when it comes to versification. He wants something hard so that he can take an ax to it. As he says, anybody can write such stanzas as Gray's:

"The boast of heraldry—the pomp of power,

And all that beauty—all that wealth

e'er gave.

Away alike the inevitable hour—

The paths of glory lead but to the grave."

"According to Obediah that poem just naturally wrote and rhymed itself. It was just as easy as picking up fagots of the same length. But when our Obediah takes his trusty pen in hand there is something happening every few minutes. Here, for instance, are some lines from "My California," which he wrote while tending the baby:

In Wonderland.

Oh, Rachael, look at the mountains,

Running their backbone into the sky—

Spines of granite, pricking the heavens,

Majestic.

Mysterious.

Will you stand there at doomsday wring-

ing your hands?

Behold the all-spanning sea—

White-winged spindles of untempered foam,

Terrifying.

Stupendous.

Wetting my legs when I walk on your sands.

And oh, the vastness of Mother Earth—

Tickle her breast with an iron tooth:

She groans with the burden of harvest—

Alfalfa.

Onions.

Massive and fragrant onions, I love you so.

Oh, you wonderful California.

With bowels of gold and buds in your hair.

Magnificently.

Yours are the excesses of an improvident

God.

I'd like to see Frankenstein set to music.

Yet I will say that when it comes to poetic measure one Peck is worth many Pounds.

Poets are dowered with a spiritual or mental vision, and to them physical blindness is no vast handicap. Homer was "the blind old bard of Sicily's rocky isle," and Milton was referred to as the sightless seer of Seven Dials.

Obediah Peck is known as the one-eyed Goethe of Glendale, although the frivolous spell it "foet." He wears a glass eye in his west window, but it is no wise interference with the operations of his fountain pen. Obediah is different from the general company of bards in that he is thrifty. Only the other day he passed the schoolhouse in his morning walk and found a number of lads playing marbles. With the remembrance of youth and the love of gain combined he asked permission to join the game. Using his glass eye for a "shooter" he stayed until he had cleaned up the bunch. Then, with his pocket full of marbles and a gleam of content in his good eye, he continued his journey.

But this is wandering from the theme of British decadence. This was brought home with brutal frankness in the recent lines of Rudyard Kipling, who is a scientist in exception to the general score of retrogression. This latest poem is called "Mort Britanna," and in the course of it Ruddy lashes the home folk in these terms:

"What shall we say for England as she shudders in sordid shame; Shall her rare roe beef and her nut-brown ale be all that remains of fame? For what a vision enfolds me, and in ghastly aliaes I tread.

And behold, a steel-beaked vulture peck at the eyes of the dead. And under the shroud lies England, pinched and veined and cold, While the smoking lamps gleam dimly, yielding incense of days of old. Aye! once my England was haughty, isolate in her pride.

And her ships fared forth on a thousand seas, where the storm king's vassals ride. Once she was pillared in purple-pagans with world-wide power. But alas! for her vaunted glory—'tis dispelled in a blighting hour. Smug and content they found her; sluggish in armored might. And the hordes of the yellow Nogi throttled her in the night."

"What shall we say of England, last of a mighty race, As the steel-beaked vulture pecks the eyes that stonily stare in space?"

It is suggested that President Wilson might appoint ex-President Taft to the Supreme Bench. Chief Executive in this case would feel called upon to name the man to him in politics for his catching.

THE ENIGMA.

Said Youth to Death:

Oh, what art thou, a monster of gloom? Whose cry breath upon a mortal's face Bears it away to worlds unknown? Art thou a fiend in sodden robes From whom none ever escapes? Dost bid life cease forever? O dread Death?

Said Age to Death:

Nay, thou art an angel of peace. Thy cooling finger fans the fever of life. Bid the sufferer be at peace. Thy soft, white wings hold him gently, tenderly as death. The memory of the loved one is Thy voice is music of the soul. O welcome Death.

Said Death to Youth:

Neither monster nor angel art thou. Nor can I answer the question of fate. I am glow of the twilight. And kind of the trembling. I am star-strewn curtains of night. And shimmering veil of dawn. I am fragrant, balmy breeze From far-off, violet-clad hills. Sweeping vast and wide. Bearing you on, and on. Through countless cycles. Onward, onward, upward. Till you yourself go forth. In sunset, dawn, night, day. Into the infinite eternal. Where I come not, and am not.

Gas-Pipe Clubs and Other Arms Identified in Court Armed and Dangerous in Armed Headquarters After Riotous Day Rides.

Gas-pipe clubs, wired-brick and a miscellaneous assortment of equally wicked weapons figured conspicuously yesterday in the hands of the anarchists and Socialists participated in the Christmas riot at the Plaza.

The argument of Attorney
Harriman and G. Ray Horton,
the defense, the assortment of weapons proved an over-kill, if not blow to the defendants.

The defendants are declared by the police to be a long list of witnesses for the forty-three defendants,
two of whom may have their names pronounced.

As the police do not wish to be guilty of a single miscarriage of justice, they may be released on bail, but there is nothing specific against them than having been in the crowd.

The authorities declare, however,
without exception, all of the defendants will be convicted on specific instances of rioting.
The trial may not draw to a close until next week.

The defendants were arrested yesterday as having taken part in the riot, and the arrest of death-dealing guns and miscellaneous weapons was made in the L.W.W. headquarters after the riot was exhibited and identified.

The completion of the court's task yesterday, the end of the trial is at hand and the prosecution begins to submit the preponderance of evidence the attorneys and judges say they are ready to prepare.

CITY'S BIG LEAD IN REGISTRATION TOTAL.

MORE persons have registered in Los Angeles city and county
since the new Registrar began business on the second inst. than in all the rest of California combined, 53-689 men and women having registered here up to last night.

In San Francisco 5751 persons have registered; 27,020 in Alameda county.
These are the largest population centers of the State outside of Los Angeles.

Registration totals in San Diego,
Sacramento, Stockton, Bakersfield,
Riverside, San Bernardino and scores of other cities, combined with San Francisco and Alameda, do not equal Los Angeles.

County Registrar McAleer has conducted his office so efficiently that but few complaints have reached him through his 300 field deputies. And yet a couple of Earl upstarts, one a discharged county employee, are circulating a petition urging citizens to recall McAleer on the ground of incompetency.

Republicans are far ahead in the totals here, as they are throughout the State generally. Up to last night 24,178 Republicans had registered here, 14,645 "Progressives" and 10,968 Democrats.

San Francisco stands 3442 Republicans against 2647 "Progressives" and 2244 Democrats. In Alameda the Earl-Eddie suits are leading, 12,250 to 11,102 Republicans. Alameda is itchy with Johnson commissioners and job-holders. San Jose totals show 2300 Republicans to 1070 "Progressives." In Bakersfield the would-be wreckers of the Grand Old Party have mustered 155 voters against 798
Republicans and 818 Democrats.

San Diego is five to one straight Republican, and what's the use?—
it's going that way all over the State,
despite the "free lunches" and pink tea and free tango lessons being given away with every "Progressive" signature.

section 50, reads as follows: "The holder of any elective or appointive county or township office may be recalled by the electors at any time
after he has held his office six months." County Registrar McAleer has held his office just two months.
And further in the article: "Before any petition can be filed under this section for the recall of any person in the classified service of the county
there shall be presented to, and be passed upon by the Civil Service Commission, a complaint in writing giving the grounds for and asking the removal of such person. Such complaint must be considered and be finally acted upon by the commission
within twenty days after such filing."
The Evans-Eddie-Doty Civil Service Commission has never passed upon any such complaint and if the State Constitution is upheld, will never have an opportunity of passing upon anything.

TRACK SEASON NOW STARTING.

Occidental Meets Combined Teams Tomorrow.

Schedule for Season Is All Arranged.

Lawson Announces Football
Dates for 1914.

Track season for the Southern California colleges will start tomorrow afternoon when Occidental College meets the combined teams of Los Angeles and Manual Arts high schools on the Tiger track.

This will be the first dual meet of the season and will give the first line on the possibilities for new stars.
While the times and records will undoubtedly be rather poor because of the date, the fans will at least be able to see to what extent the Tigers are able to go in the way
of winning track laurels.
Occidental will be forced to use
a large number of new men this year because of the loss of many stars by graduation and this will be their first workout. The combined high schools should furnish some excellent competition.

Track Schedule.

Managers Lawson, Hankey and Howard got their heads together yesterday afternoon and fixed up the track schedule for the season and it runs about as follows:

February 14—Occidental relay marshals at Occidental.

February 21—Occidental vs. U.S.C.
at U.S.C.

February 21—Pomona vs. U.S.C. at Claremont.

March 14—U.S.C. vs. California, at U.S.C.

March 21—Occidental vs. Pomona, at Occidental.

April 11—Conference meet at U.
S.C.

The fact that the three colleges are to get together for the first time in a couple of years is a great sign for the future of track athletics in Southern California. The colleges are all pulling together this year and it looks like an even better season all around than last year.

Football Dates.

Manager Lawson of Occidental has fixed up his football schedule for next year, and has it ready for the public eye.

October 24—Redlands, at Occi-
dental.

October 21—Whittier, at Occi-
dental.

November 7—Arizona, at Occi-
dental.

November 14—Utah, at Salt Lake.
November 21—Pomona, at Occi-
dental.

In addition to this schedule of games there will be the usual postseason games, yet to be selected. Louisiana, Washington and Colorado universities have written expressing their desire to take on the Tigers in a post-season game, but Manager Lawson and Coach Pipal haven't yet fully decided on the victim.

The Tigers are in for a very hard month's work if the results of the post season are to be believed. Every one of the five games scheduled for the single month will test the Tigers
to the limit and the long jump to Salt Lake City between the Arizona and Pomona games isn't going to help their chances against either Utah or Pomona.

However, the Tigers are counting on having a team next year that will surpass the famous variety of 1912, which defeated Pomona 12 to 13, and secured that with the veteran team
they will have lined up next fall they will have little difficulty in holding onto their title of champions of the Southwest.

"ONE ROUND" HOGAN
GETS A CALL-DOWN.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF
THE TIMES, Jan. 29.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) James Smith, a property man for the "Adelle" company at the Columbia Theater, was arrested yesterday and locked up in jail without bail by Police Judge Sheriff today, and
"One Round" Hogan, the local prize fighter, accused with Smith of beating up Edward Morgan, an up-holster, last night, was given a merciless grilling by the judge.

"You are only a cheap dabb," said Judge Sheriff to Hogan, "You use
a third-tier, and while everybody can beat you in the game, all you can do is to go around and beat up innocent, inoffensive people who can not protect themselves. I wish I could only connect you up with this outrage, then I would hand you what I am going to give to your friend Smith."

Smith will come up for sentence tomorrow. The fight occurred at O'Farrell and Powell streets.

BUD DENIES SCRAP
WITH DICK DONALD.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 29.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Bud Anderson, from his home at Vancouver, Wash., today branded as false the story of his dissolving partnership with Dick Donald. Bud says he received a telegram from Donald Tuesday, but it was not immediately delivered to him, and that he was going to answer it today.

The telegram told Anderson that Donald had matched him to meet Red Walton at San Francisco in a twenty-round bout on the night of February 28, and that Donald would leave Los Angeles for San Francisco about the first of February.

"I don't know what Dick and I are at 'out' about," said Bud. "I guess somebody is trying to stir up trouble between us."

"I CAN HIT HARDER THAN KID WILLIAMS."

Eddie Campi.

The handsome little Frenchman, who may be bantam champion of the world tomorrow night.

Don't I hit hard now? Yes,
I can claim something for me.
To tell you the truth, when I came down here and fought Kid Williams I had all that experience stuff ringing in my ears from the four-round game in San Francisco.
Up there I used to do all this fast work—you know, kind of use them with little steps. I delivered half of my blows open-handed. Now I have learned how to hit with both hands.

"When I fought Kid Williams before I didn't know how to clinch. I just put my hands on his shoulders and gave him a chance to drive into my stomach with both fists. That is how he beat me, although he couldn't hurt me much, even then. I know how to avoid his short-arm blows now.

"This impression has completely got around that he is a daring old warrior, while I am an inexperienced kid in the fight game. As a matter of fact, I have fought more dangerous boys than he has. I don't think Kid Williams compares in cleverness with Frankie Burns or in hitting power with Benny Chavez. Chavez was a really dangerous boy. Williams hits only little squishy short blows, but that boy Chavez could hit a fearful blow."

"Kid Williams will find a different boy this time," said Eddie. "Did you see me boxing with a scurrying partner? Don't I hit hard now? Yes,
I can claim something for me.

WOLTER WON'T SIGN CONTRACT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN JOSE, Jan. 29.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Harry Wolter sang the contract tendered to him by Henry Barry back into the face of the Los Angeles man today, and gave out the statement tonight that if Los Angeles wants to deal with him
further it will have to send a representative here to meet him.

The receiving of the contract
from Los Angeles today confirms the report that he has been sold by the New York Americans to the Angels. The Los Angeles contract more than cuts in half the salary he drew from the Yankees last year and Wolter says that under no circumstances will he sign it.
He has already returned the document to the Los Angeles club.

"It is a clear case of railroading," said Wolter in a statement tonight. "Frank Barry never asked waivers on me and is trying to send me to the minors without giving me
a chance to get on with some other American League club. I will sign with the Angels, but will not accept any contract which calls for a cent less than I received last year, and unless these terms are met I will jump
to the Federal League."

Military Show Plans Promise Spectacular Action Near Waterfront. Western National Guard Recruits Landing and Bombardment from Warships.

Spectators at the coming military show are to have an opportunity of witnessing a real match of troops
of all branches of the National Guard under full war equipment, their going in to camp and sustaining an attack by an invading enemy supported by guns
of his warships, according to present plans of Lieut.-Col. Baltimore's committee.

Infantry, cavalry, artillery, naval militia, signal men, engineers and hospital corps, each executing its appropriate duty as in actual warfare, are to be seen in action under circumstances exactly duplicating march and battle, with the single exception of projectiles.

Blank ammunition will render the action spirited, but safe, and dramatic to a degree beyond the experience of most citizens.

Suitable grounds are now sought by the committee, with the choice lying between Venice and Anacostia Park, unless some favorable proposition should be presented themselves.

NEW CHEAP CAR BUILT TO COMPETE WITH FORD.

HARON (Pa.) Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first price cutting war in the automobile business took place here today when the Griggs-Seabury Corporation was given an order for the manufacture of 5000 motor cars which are to be placed on the market in competition with the cars now being sold by the Ford company of Detroit, Mich.

One of the features of the new car is said to be the application of a patent cushion spring which it is claimed will greatly reduce the wear and tear on the tires. According to the officials of the corporation the first of the new cars will be placed on the market in the spring.

Three days a week the former Stanford trainer will journey to the Catholic institution and assume the responsibilities of track coach. For the past two seasons "Dad" has held a somewhat similar position at Santa Clara and so is well known on the Santa Clara campus.

A wrong line-up containing six former varsity veterans will take the field for Stanford. Maple and Dent will constitute the battery. Opaty will play his usual position at short. Workman will take the first base position, while McClellan, who has been for a time in the hospital, will resume his position at third. Stanford, who makes his initial appearance on the Stanford diamond, will hold down the second bag. The outfield will consist of Halm, Day and Noonan.

On April 14 and 15, Stanford will stage her ninth annual intercollegiate track and tennis meet. Letters of invitation have been sent to the track and tennis captains of 350 preparatory schools in California, Washington, Oregon, Arizona, Idaho, Utah and Nevada. On account of the increased number of entries, it has been found necessary to set aside two days for the combined meets. At the present time bids on the medals are being received from all quarters.

Moquito extermination will be the work of many students of the entomology department who have been employed by San Mateo county for work in the marshes which extend over a great deal of the territory about the southern end of San Francisco Bay. Successful results will bring joy to the hearts of Stanford students, for at some times of the year hordes of these insects visit the Quad.

Tentative plans for the new library, as shown by Librarian Clark, will be a two-story building in design to the present buildings, which will form a part of the proposed second Quadrangle between the present Quad and Encina Hall, the men's dormitory.

From the numbers out for the varsity chess team, Stanford should have an excellent chance of again winning from California. The Car-

SILENT BASEBALL MAY RULE IN CONFERENCE.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VERMONT (Ill.) Jan. 29.—Baseball seems to be the western conference will be peaceful and gentle if the rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, made public today, are adopted. The rules provide: "The exterior shall not, during actual play, speak at all to the batsman, except when the occasion requires a friendly word of caution, and in answer to the pitcher the catcher shall not use words reflecting or calculated to reflect on the batsman or any other member of the opposing team. Members of either team shall not shout during the game to any member of the opposing side, except to encourage him against some danger, nor behave in any indecorous or unseemly manner. There shall be no verbal coaching from the bench. The so-called encouragement of the pitcher from the catcher shall be stopped or at least minimized. The umpire shall warn a player for an infraction of the rules and then exclude him from the game. The students of the home team must not cheer in any way as to rattle the opposing team. The umpire shall not hold a meeting until June and it is considered unlikely that any action on the rules would be taken to affect the 1914 season.

Two basketball games at L.A.A.C. The basketball games between the L.A.A.C. and U.S.C. that was to be held last night was postponed because of the U.S.C. men had to leave for the "home" and Art Taylor was substituted.

Joe Birmingham comes to rescue. Birmingham, who was substituted for Taylor, played the game very well. The L.A.A.C. team showed some improvement in their play. The playing of the game was very clever. The game was as follows:

MANY ENTRIES IN CULVER MARATHON.

The Culver City Marathon, postponed from last Saturday until tomorrow, has not suffered through such postponement, but has added several more stars to the list of competitors. Several good men of the long-grind variety have sent in their entries since the postponement who would otherwise have been unable to take part. The race, as per former arrangements, will start at seventh street and Grand avenue at 5 o'clock p.m. tomorrow and will wind up at the main office of Culver City.

PASADENA.
VISIT OF BEAR
NOT EXPECTED.

Veteran Stage Driver Wakes to Find Him in Bed.

Commercial Element Enters Home and Church.

Mystery of Lost Lamp Post Cleared at Last.

PASADENA, Jan. 29.—W. P. Galt, familiarly known as "Tennessee," a veteran stage driver, who has been listening to a degree of incredulity, last night proved his mettle.

He occupies a room at No. 44 South Raymond avenue, and Edward Gill and James J. Doran, two boys who are walking across the country with a bear, say to advertise the San Francisco exposition, and had just arrived in town, took a room in the same building. Somehow or other, the bear escaped from their room and made its way into "Tennessee's" room. He was asleep and the bear got into bed with him and huddled down under the covers. The man was awakened by feeling one of the bear's claws, cold on his neck.

Did he shriek and rush from the room? Not he. He calmly reached for the telephone at the head of his bed and called the police.

"Hello," he said, "is this you, sergeant? Well, there's a bear in my bed. I wish you'd send an officer to take it away."

The police at first thought that he was intoxicated, but he assured them so emphatically that he was not, and described the bear so minutely, that they finally investigated. In the meantime Brain was held by his owners and taken back into their room.

MANY ATTEND.
The annual banquet of the Pasadena Federation of Men's Clubs and a lecture by George A. Damon, dean of Throop College of Technology, drew a large crowd at the Christian Church last night.

The principal address at the Men's Club banquet was that of Dr. Samuel K. Kerfoot, president of Hamlin University, Minnesota, who was the guest of honor. He deplored the tendency of the educational methods of the day toward sacrificing all else for practicality.

This common, all element is also entering too much into our homes and into the churches," he said. "Money isn't the standard of values. It is life that is that. If we let the bread-and-butter struggle enter into education early and go on with it into higher education, instead of our going into broader thinking, there is a danger. Books and all else that matter into a child's education are of value only in that they help to build life."

The dinner was prepared and served by the women of the Christian Church.

Damon's lecture was of a critical nature. He illustrated it with views of different buildings in the city and undertook to forecast what changes will have been made twenty-five years hence.

ALL OVER A POST.
The mystery of the lost lamp post might have been the title of a detective story in real life in which C. W. Koerner, manager of the municipal light department, and Patrolman Nicol of the police force played important parts yesterday.

The prelude occurred several days ago when it was discovered that one of the new lamp posts that have recently been installed in Oak Knoll was missing. No clue was left. There was just a yawning hole in the ground where the post had been implanted.

The police and the light department officers were puzzled. While the post was painted with the best bronze paint, it was a plain cast iron on the inside and there could have been no doubt in the mind of any lamp post burglar on digging it up that while it was worth $30 as a lamp post it would not be worth 30 cents melted up.

The theory that some junk dealer without scruples had been tempted to tear it up by the roots was finally adopted, and Koerner yesterday so disposed of the matter in a report to the City Commission.

Startling developments occurred later in the day, when it transpired that the post had not been stolen at all, but had been kept safely by one of the residents in the neighborhood, where it had stood. He looked forth and saw it wavering when it was loosened several days ago by flood waters and went out and got it and put it away for safe keeping. Yesterday it was restored to its place and it will soon be aglow with lights.

ONE WEDDING FREE.
Concerned more about having his new quarters properly dedicated than about hands, Justice of the Peace Dunham, who has moved his office and court room to the second floor of the Central building, No. 28 North Raymond avenue, yesterday offered to marry for the first couple who called on him. He said that it would make the new court room always seem a happy place and if it might be opened with a wedding rather than with a trial; hence, the generous offer.

However, at the time he closed yesterday afternoon the offer had not been taken advantage of.

CITY BRIEFS.
George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago, is expected to arrive in Pasadena this morning accompanied by Mrs. Reynolds and their son, Earl H. Reynolds, who is cashier of the People's Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago. They are to pass the winter at the Hotel Huntington.

The amount of $251.50 has been sent from Pasadena to the national treasurer of the Cross Society at Washington as this city's share of the fund that has been raised to aid the victims of the earthquake in Japan.

Pavlowa and her Russian ballet will keep their engagement with the Pasadena Music and Art Association by appearing at the Hotel Huntington at 2 o'clock this afternoon. This announcement was made yesterday by the manager of the company, who stated that the company had other engagements in Denver and other middle western points, it was impossible to obtain an engagement. However, although the affair will have to be a matinee, it will be none the less fashionable and will rank as one of the society affairs of the winter.

The attention of the Department of Agriculture having been called to the work in propagating trees that is being done at the Pasadena High School, it has directed that about forty rare shrubs be sent there from China and other oriental points for experimental purposes.

The dates for the Elks' annual show in Pasadena were fixed yesterday. It will be given at the Elks' Theatre the nights of March 12 and 13.

H. F. Cloud yesterday sent a communication to the City Commission in which he suggests that as there is a project under consideration of annexing territory to the north of Pasadena, and as more State lands will be needed to supply this territory, it should be taken, the city make plans to go to the Big Tujunga River for an inside supply.

Miss Josephine Murray, an employee at La Vina Sanatorium, was struck by an automobile driven by Harry Brown this city on Lincoln avenue, last night, and seriously injured. She was taken to the Pasadena Hospital, where it was found that several ribs had been fractured. The day nurse, who was with her, was held yesterday afternoon, which was to have been held this afternoon, has been postponed.

Tomorrow spells finish for the 9th Broadway Biscuits. Hurry in today and save some clothes money. 37 N. Raymond.—(Advertisement.)

SAN PEDRO.
FOOD AND MAIL
SHIPPED NORTH.

Passengers Crowd Steamer for Flooded City.

British Ship Searched for Contraband Opium.

Oakland Lumber Ordered from Wilmington Mill.

SAN PEDRO, Jan. 29.—With 500 sacks of United States mail, and over 100 tons of perishable freight for Santa Barbara and Port San Luis, the steamer Santa Clara sailed to night. Every berth on the steamer was taken and she carried her full list of 134 passengers. The Santa Clara arrived here early this morning from San Francisco. She called at Port San Luis, but did not put in at Santa Barbara. On the return trip she will call at both ports.

This is the first time mail has been dispatched through this port coastwise. The macks were in charge of railroad mail clerks regularly employed on the Coast line of the Southern Pacific, which was put out of business by the floods. The Santa Clara brought in 200 sacks from Port San Luis this morning.

NO OPIUM FOUND.
Customs officers today made a thorough search of the British steamer M. S. Dollar for smuggled opium. Every nook and corner from stem to stern of the big freighter was searched, particular attention being given to the quarters of the Chinese crew, but not a tin of the drug was found.

The steamer loaded at various ports in the Orient and the customs officers were instructed to make a special search for opium. At Manila the steamer loaded 100,000 feet of Philippine mahogany. From Muroran, Japan, she brought 500,000 feet of Japanese oak logs and from Shanghai came 125 tons of merchandise of all sorts for various Los Angeles dealers. She will proceed to San Francisco Saturday.

LUMBER SENT NORTH.
One of the very few cargoes of lumber ever shipped north from this port was taken by the steamer William H. Murphy from the mill of the Pacific Lumber Company at Wilmington today. She took $50,000 worth of redwood, part of which will be discharged at Oakland and the remainder go up the Sacramento River. A shortage of kiln-dried stock at Oakland made it necessary to fill orders from the Wilmington mill.

The Murphy was ready to sail last night, but was delayed by the grounding of the steamer Wellesley in the channel leading to the Consolidated mill. Flood waters from the Los Angeles River brought so much silt into the channel that it is difficult to navigate. The Wellesley got off at high tide and out of the way of the Murphy.

PLAN NEW GRADES.
Extensive plans are being made by the City Engineers for new grades on all streets east of Pacific avenue, between Sixth and Santa Cruz. It is planned to fill the streets through Happy Valley several feet and cut the grades on either side. This will make all streets open from the west basin to the outer harbor on easy grades.

Plans recently prepared by the City Engineer for new grades in this district were unsatisfactory to property owners because they did not provide uniform grades less than 4 per cent.

NEWS BRIEFS.
Good roads work in this county will be delayed two or three weeks because the county's rock crusher at McPherson was put out of commission by the storm. A large amount of silt was washed over the gravel bed. The Southern Pacific branch will not be used for several days, repairs being necessary.

Vata, crushers and other apparatus have been installed by the International Fruit Products Company in a packing-house leased from the Santa Fe, and next Monday the company will begin work transforming cull lots into articles of greater value. The company has no stock for sale and has established here without asking favors, indicating to the people that it is not a promoter of the county growers of the county welcome.

It is as it gives them a market for cull oranges and lemons that otherwise would be a burden on their hands. The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association has appointed a committee to try to get the Pacific Electric to reduce the round-trip fare on the Santa Ana-Los Angeles line from $1 to 75 cents.

BEACH BRIEFS.
At the hearing granted the officials of the two telephone companies to show cause why they should not be appointed arbitrators to settle the dispute between them, representatives of both companies asked and received the permission of the Mayor and Council two weeks more time to prepare data in answer to the city's demands. Mayor Wheaton sees no reason why the telephone companies should not be united as they are in Pasadena, Riverside, and other towns. The time is thought ripe for the purchase of the local Home concern by the Pacific company.

Residents of American avenue made a demand upon the Council at its weekly "grievance" hearing this evening that a crossing of Fourteenth street be made over the Pacific Electric tracks on the right-of-way. This street has never been cut through the railroad, and vehicles must go either to Anaheim or Sixteenth street to get from one side of the city to the other over the tracks. The railroad committee will wrestle with the project.

Seamen who daily go out onto the piers to fish for the denizens of the deep to their hooks and nets are complaining that the smoke from the smudge pots of the owners of clippers so obscures the landmarks on shore that they often lose their reckoning and are compelled to go miles out of their way. Their complaint has been received with sympathy by landlubbers who realize what great necessity there is for smudging and to what little inconvenience the boat owners are put.

Trustees of the Burnett Baptist Church have issued a call to Rev. C. J. Coulter, formerly of Colorado, to preach at their edifice. Rev. Mr. Coulter has on the list of his pastorate the church for several months past.

The Board of Public Works today threw open the pier to the people. Since the beginning of the high tides this pier has been closed but a rigid inspection of the supporting timbers by President James of the Board and assistants gives no cause for thinking the structure unsafe. The fishing boats and San Pedro ferry boats have again started to ply their trade.

Seven big sharks were captured by the passengers on the launch Tourist, Capt. Graves, today. They averaged 100 pounds apiece in weight. The six men on the launch Eagle caught more red rock cod than they could carry home, fishing at a depth of 600 feet.

BRANCH AUTO OFFICE.
Southern California Club Establishes in Pomona—Storm Protection District Planned.

POMONA, Jan. 29.—H. T. Wilson, assistant secretary of the Southern California Auto Club, has come here from Los Angeles and established a branch office of the association in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at Third and Thomas streets. The establishment of this branch here will be of great value to all automobile owners and drivers and he will direct tourists who apply to the Los Angeles headquarters for information regarding pleasant automobile drives in this district, which abounds in interesting scenery.

This will bring many desirable visitors to Pomona, and the Chamber of Commerce bespeaks the co-operation of local residents with Wilson in his work here. He will be in charge of the entire district of the association, from this city to San Bernardino, and the office established promises to be an important one.

STORM PROTECTION.
Prominent orange growers and residents of Claremont and this city are taking the initiative steps toward the formation of a large storm protection district in a basket of oranges and loss in this locality from flood waters. It is proposed to protect about 15,000 acres and it is estimated that can be done at a small expense, with the co-operation of the railroad, the cities of Pomona and Claremont, and the owners of the property affected.

TOURISTS FROM UTAH.
Preparations are all made by the Chamber of Commerce for the entertainment of the several hundreds of tourists from Utah who will pass next Monday here. The visitors will be given auto rides about the valley and entertained at a basket luncheon at Ganessa Park at noon. The tourists will be met at the depot by the High School and in the afternoon there will be a reception at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, when small souvenir boxes of oranges will be distributed.

POOLROOM REGULATIONS.
Orange County Supervisors Put the Responsibility on the Proprietors. Short News Stories.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 28.—The Board of Supervisors has passed two new ordinances regulating poolrooms and billiard halls in Orange county outside incorporated towns.

By one ordinance poolrooms must close at 11 o'clock at night, instead of at midnight, as under the old law. By another, it is made a misdemeanor to bet on any game played with cards, balls, cues or any representative of value.

It becomes a misdemeanor for any poolhall proprietor to allow any person under 21 years of age to be in his place.

Long Beach.
FEDERAL AID IS PROMISED.

Great Rejoicing Over Good News from Capital.

New Ship May Steam Out of Harbor Ballasted.

Federal Building Site Gets Financial Boost.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 29.—With the announcement that the seventh steel building built at the Craig ship-building plant will be ready for launching February 20, came today the information that the Rivers and Harbors committee of the National House had reached a favorable stage in their consideration of the plea of Long Beach for an appropriation of a half-million dollars to deepen the harbor entrance. So the Alvarado, the newest creation of the Craig plant, will perhaps be enabled to steam out of the entrance channel under blight. Then, indeed, will the dream of harbor boosters be realized.

Heretofore, the vessels launched have been outfitted for sea without the bilge-water balance. The entrance channel is not of sufficient depth at low tide to allow the free entrance and egress of vessels of the type of the Alvarado, which is 220 feet long and is being built at a cost of $225,000. The engines have been installed and the house is now being finished.

The christening of this ship will be the occasion of much rejoicing in Long Beach because of the telegram received today by Secretary Bligh of the Chamber of Commerce from Congressman C. W. Bell, indicating that the United States Engineering Board was giving final consideration to the plea for Federal aid in deepening the harbor entrance.

MONEY DELIVERED.
At the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tonight great enthusiasm followed the report of Secretary Bligh that the warrant of the United States Engineering Board which to purchase the Federal building site had been delivered to Cashier Tucker of the City National Bank. The money will be paid to the Chamber of Commerce by the United States Treasury.

The funeral will be held in the Episcopal Church. The bodies will not be interred immediately following the funeral because it is the plan to wait for the arrival of relatives from Europe and the East, they having expressed a desire to see the bodies.

REPAIRING DAMAGES.
Santa Barbara victims of the storm are working day and night to repair their damaged property and working on the roads and bridges that were washed out.

There is no train service south from here a train made the round trip today to San Luis Obispo and it is announced that trains will be running to Ventura by the first of next week.

The Santa Clara is due here at midnight from Los Angeles and will arrive in the morning. Several launches came up from Los Angeles today with passengers and new arrivals from the south. Among them was the Otter, chartered by Barney Oldfield, and the steamer Santa Monica.

LETTER A HOAX.
Search for the body of F. Lewis Clark, the Spokane millionaire who disappeared from here two weeks ago, will be taken up at the islands tomorrow, if a launch can be obtained. An effort was made to get a boat today but all are out of the harbor. Those who are directing the search for the body believe it may have been carried across the channel in the recent storm.

No recognition has been taken of the letter alleged to have been written to Chief of Police Sebastian of Los Angeles in which the signers, who called themselves "The Blackmalters," say they will deliver Clark to his wife for a ransom. E. A. Risor, the local attorney who is looking after the affairs of the Clarks here, says the letter is so manifestly a hoax that he will pay no attention to it.

Having abandoned all hope that Clark is alive, Mrs. Clark and her friends are now convinced that he was dead away with or that he met his death accidentally by falling from the wharf. They refuse to entertain the suicide theory, says Attorney Risor.

Private and "in fact" detectives have been annoying Mrs. Clark and her friends ever since Clark disappeared. There are several in the city who are looking after the case for the body believe it may have been carried across the channel in the recent storm.

RUBBERNECK JULY.

The Twelve Men in Western Fuel Trial Are Taken to Company's Wharves in Nighttime Wagons.

Perched high on the banked seats of a "rubberneck wagon," the Western Fuel jurors visited today the company's wharves on the water front to see for themselves the disposition of the pockets and tracks and to observe how coal is discharged and loaded.

The government seeks to prove that officers and employees of the company were guilty of criminal conspiracy to give short weights and pay low customs dues that the true weights called for.

J. R. Holahan was in charge of the sightseeing tour, and the official "barkers" were the government's special counsel, Matt J. Sullivan and Theodore Roche. Roche objected to making the inspection at a time when coaling was going on.

We don't live in an age of miracles, said, "and the probabilities are that everything these jurors see will run counter to the practices which the government's evidence has shown to have been customary in the past."

Judge Dooling disallowed the protest.

TARS SHUDDER AT EASTER ISLE.

WED DUSKY MAIDENS, WELL NO, DECLARE SAILORS.

And if They Get Hold of Man Who Started the Stories They'll Make an I.W.W. Riot Look Like a Peace Conference Is Final Word of Eldorado's Crew.

San Francisco Bureau of THE TIMES, Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Easter Isle and other alleged Eden-like retreats for rest and love sick Adams, made attractive in magazines and in steamship folders, have no allurement for seven sailors who arrived here today from Australia on the liner Ventura. They form the remainder of the ship's company of the last schooner, Eldorado, which went down in the South Pacific several months ago. The captain and several others of the crew arrived here some time ago, telling how they had been forced to leave their island home for reasons of health.

Following this there appeared glowing stories in many newspapers of how the marooned sailors had been captivated by the dusky maidens of the far off island and how they did not care to return to civilization but would remain where they were happily married, every Jack Tar of them.

The party reaching here today was taken from Easter Isle to Sydney, Australia, by the British tramp freighter Knight of the Garter, which was forced to put into the lonely island harbor for repairs to a disabled propeller.

But for the chance appearance of the big steamer the castaways would have remained on the island for the island awaiting the annual call of a trading schooner.

"This talk about Easter Island being Paradise is very much bunk," vehemently declared the sailors today. "Why, I don't think you could find a more Godforsaken place in the world. There are 250 natives on the island, about half of them women. Talk about our marrying them. Well, if we didn't know who you were and you happened to ask us the question, you'd probably have a battle on your hands at once explaining. We spent five months on the island, and there was never a more happy set of men than we were when the Knight of the Garter came and took us away. It was all a nightmare. Beware of Easter Island, is our warning."

The Eldorado's company returning by the Ventura included—J. Wilson, mate; S. Bravner, Rudolph Wolberg, A. H. Johnson, Carl Carlson, Charles C. Cassavary and S. R. Walk.

COOK TO BE DAIRYMAN.

Former Los Angeles Judge Buys Interest in Oregon Farm, Which Supplies Milk to Portland.

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] J. W. Cook, former County Judge of Los Angeles, is to become a dairyman.

E. L. Thompson of the Hartman & Thompson Bank has sold a half-interest in his Columbia county dairy farm to Cook and Bird N. Hawley, who will take active charge of the business. The farm supplies milk, packed in double-sealed bottles, to the Portland trade.

Hawley, Cook's brother-in-law, is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural College, with four years of technical experience.

MOTHER'S PATHETIC MISSION.

Arrives at Sacramento to Take the Body of Daughter Shot Down by A. Boettcher.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An aged woman arrived here today on a mission which only a mother would undertake. Yet it was the saddest journey that ever any mother took. Her daughter, the child of her old age, had been slain in a K-street lodging house by the man to whom she had been false. The daughter was known as Goldie A. Kronenberg, who was shot down Tuesday night by A. Boettcher.

No one knows the mother's name, for Coroner Gormley was pledged to secrecy, but all respected the small, tired-faced woman who bravely took her daughter's body, and will carry home for Christian burial.

"She's my baby girl," cried the woman, the dead woman. There was something of pride in the mother's eyes as she saw how beautiful her baby girl had grown and is even now in death.

DECLARES FORD IS A COWARD.

Dist.-Atty. Stanwood Arraigns Leader of I.W.W.'s.

But Admits His Capacity to Inflame Hop-Pickers.

Case May Go to the Jury Some Time Today.

MARYSVILLE (Cal.) Jan. 29.—Contrary to expectations counsel for the defense in the trial of Richard (Blackie) Ford and three other so-called Industrial Workers of the World for the murder of former Dist.-Atty. E. T. Maxwell in the Wheatland hop riot last August, did not complete argument today. It is not certain that the fate of the accused men will be in the jury's hands before noon tomorrow.

The largest crowds on record sought admission today to the Yuba county Courthouse. Fully half the spectators were women. At both morning and afternoon sessions the rush was great, a considerable number being refused entrance by special officers stationed at the doors.

The opening address by Dist.-Atty. E. R. Stanwood consumed two hours. He analyzed the case from the time the strike on the Durst brothers' ranch was declared until Maxwell and Deputy Sheriff Eugene Reardon were killed. He asked for a verdict of murder against all the defendants.

He said the evidence showed that Ford and H. D. Suh were leaders of the mob, while Harry Bagan and William Beck were lieutenants and tools of the other two men.

The leaders did not want to settle the strike peacefully, he asserted, but desired to further the ends of the Industrial Workers of the World by causing strife. The situation in the hop field certainly was one calling for intervention by the authorities, he argued, and the Durst brothers were shot down in the performance of their duty. Under the evidence, the prosecutor argued, the jury could reasonably assume that Suh killed rather than did the Porto Rican negro, who the defense has attempted to prove committed the crime. Stanwood attacked Ford as a coward at heart, but with the capacity to inflame the minds of others.

Austin Lewis, chief counsel for the defense, began addressing the jury at 2 o'clock p.m., and was argued at 2 o'clock when adjournment was taken. Lewis attacked the case of the State from every angle, and attempted to show that the strike was justified and that the authorities brought trouble on themselves by acting too hastily. It is expected Lewis will finish his argument early tomorrow. Special Prosecutor W. H. Carlin will make the closing address.

Representatives of the California Immigration Commission and government Commission on Industrial Relations were present at the trial today. A scientific report of the case will be sent to Washington.

FREIGHT RATES TO ORIENT.

Trans-Pacific Lines Announce a Reduction on Wheat and Flour, Effective March 1.

SEATTLE, Jan. 29.—Announcement made by the trans-Pacific steamship lines of a reduction in the rate of freight on wheat and flour to the Orient, effective March 1, a reduction of $1 a ton will be made in rates on shipments of wheat and flour to the Orient.

Rates to ports in Japan will be reduced from $4 to $3 a ton; from Seattle to Hongkong and Manila from $5 to $4 a ton; from Seattle to Shanghai from $5.50 to $4.50 a ton.

All of the trans-Pacific steamship lines participate in the reduction, which, it is explained, is being made in an effort to stimulate foreign trade in the Far East during the dull season in oriental shipping.

THE "MATSONIA" DEPARTS.

CAPT. SAUNDERS IN COMMAND.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—The new Matsonia liner Matsonia started here yesterday on her initial trip to the San Francisco-Honolulu service. Owing to the illness of Capt. Peter Johnson, Capt. C. W. Saunders was on the bridge. Captain William Matson, president of the Matson Navigation Company; Mrs. Matson and their daughter, Lorraine, were among those who sailed.

"Most people are not prepared for emergencies," according to former State Harbor Commissioner John D. Mackenzie of San Francisco, now president and general manager of the Matson Company.

"We all know that a stitch in time saves nine," but we are quite too careless in protecting ourselves against accidents. In the preparation of our Akos remedies we have designed one essentially as a first aid to the injured. It is the Akos Compound.

Although the compound is very effective for all sorts of pain in rheumatism and other ailments, it is almost invaluable as a first aid preparation. In cases of burns it draws out the fire as if by magic and in cases of sprains and bruises it quickly controls the inflammation.

The Llewellyn Iron Works of Los Angeles, the San Jose Foundry of San Jose and other big plants where the men are in danger of burns, sprains and bruises, keep Akos Compound on hand for emergency use.

"We have used the Akos Compound in our works for several months and found it wonderfully effective for burns, sprains and

FOREST FIRE FIGURES.

Protective Association Reports California Compared More Than Favorably With Other States.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Of a total area of 4,692,713 acres of merchantable forest in California, less than three-tenths of one per cent, or about 1,500,000 acres, were destroyed by fire during the dry season of 1913, according to the report submitted by Geo. H. Rhodes, secretary of the California Forest Protective Association, at the annual meeting of that organization here today. These figures were compiled from reports from twenty-seven counties in the State and are said to compare more than favorably with reports from other States where forest fire protection is far advanced.

Forest protection experts of the Pacific Coast read papers on the subject. A number of delegates spoke against the single-tax movement as applied to timbered lands, and resolutions were adopted encouraging further protection by assisting new organizations and providing for the formation of others.

Officers and directors elected were: E. A. Selfridge, Jr., president; George X. Wendling, first vice-president; W. R. Burnett, second vice-president; F. J. Spencer, third vice-president; George H. Rhodes, secretary and treasurer, and George X. Wendling, secretary of the California Forest Protective Association.

The meeting concluded tonight with a banquet.

PAPER EVIDENCE.

Letters Introduced in Alaska Coal Lands Suit Show Stracey Was Informed of Illegal Locations.

SEATTLE, Jan. 29.—James L. McPherson, civil engineer who was employed by the Alaska Development Company in connection with its plans to acquire the Stracey group of Alaska coal lands, testified today in the United States District Court of Charles F. Munday and Archie W. Enright, that he had been informed of conspiracy to defraud the government. The entire day was taken up with the introduction of maps and correspondence which McPherson explained to the jury.

This documentary evidence was introduced to show the relationship between the Alaska Development Company, Algonquin H. Stracey, an English promoter of the group, jointly indicted with McPherson, and the Stracey group of Alaska coal lands. The government contends, however, that the correspondence between McPherson and Stracey showed that McPherson had informed Stracey that the method of locating claims pursued by him was illegal but that the work was continued, nevertheless.

McPherson testified he told Munday of the illegal claims made by Stracey and that Munday became highly indignant. The government contends, however, that the correspondence shows that Munday and Stracey continued their connection with Stracey's project.

MADAME BUTT ARRIVES.

English Contralto Describes Her Troubles in Australia, Where She Had to Be Vaccinated.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Jan. 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Madame Mary Butt, the English contralto, who in private life is Mrs. Kennerley Rumford, arrived this morning, accompanied by her husband and three children, Joy, 13 years old; Roy, 8, and Victor, 7, on the Union line steamship Tahiti from Australia.

The tour and the voyage were both filled with vicissitudes, that culminated yesterday afternoon, when through the rolling of the vessel, Victor was knocked off his feet against a stanchion and broke his right wrist.

Madame Butt and her family were met at the dock by Mayor Rolph and welcomed to the city.

Madame Butt said she and her family were held up at various times by the strikes in Australia. In Sydney they were required to be vaccinated on account of the prevalence of smallpox. Madame Butt said, despite her soreness from vaccination, and her accompaniment played with a sore arm.

Grafting Policemen Released.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Five policemen, convicted of sharing the pickpocketing of bunco steers, were released today from the County Jail, after serving sentences of five months for misdemeanor conspiracy. The men are William McHugh, Charles Joseph Lounsbury, John J. Sullivan and James McGowan.

Tilted to Succeed Judge Head.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 29.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Gov. Johnson today appointed W. D. Tillotson of Redding, as Superior Judge of Shasta county, to succeed the late Judge Head.

SKIN TROUBLE LIKE RASH ON HANDS

Spread On Arms to Elbows and Face, Red and Raw, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

Maple Valley, Wash.—"A form of skin disease was so bad on my hands that the skin was all just as if it was eaten away. The irritation was especially bad at night when I kept scratching till the blood came. At last it spread on my arms up to the elbows, and it even started on my face. The skin trouble started as a rash. It was red and raw and sometimes it was covered with little yellow spots."

"I tried several salves and prescriptions but got no relief. I had this skin trouble for a number of years. After using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment freely for four weeks the cure was complete." (Signed) R. Dugby, July 12, 1913.

Are your little ones suffering from itching, burning eczema, or other torturing, disfiguring skin troubles? Are you, yourself, worn out with long, sleepless nights and endless anxiety in caring for them? Then you should know that a warm bath with Cuticura Soap and gentle application of Cuticura Ointment will in most cases bring immediate relief, the little sufferers will sleep, tired, fretted mothers will rest, and peace will fall on distracted households.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment have proved successful in the most distressing cases of infested children and adults, when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 25¢ Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.
